

Bernard Mohr is past Dean of Complex Systems Change at the Institute for Applied Behavioral Science, adjunct faculty in organizational innovation at Concordia University and visiting lecturer at KU Leuven. He works throughout the USA, Central America, the Caribbean, Western Europe, Canada and the Middle East supporting co-innovation of professional practice in health care delivery, pharmaceutical R&D. and organization design. His approach is systemic, constructionist and strengths-based. Representative clients include Baystate Health, British Petroleum, Canadian Broadcasting Corp. Elliott Health System, Faxton-St. Luke's Healthcare, GSK, Newark Beth Israel Medical Center, Novartis, Novo Nordisk, NYU Langone Medical Center, Tennessee Hospital Association, Tufts

Medical Center and the World Health Organization. He has authored/co-authored six books and numerous articles dealing with co-creating more humane and effective organizations – with a recent focus on participative designing of integrated care ecosystems. Bernard is also the founder and Managing Director of the non-profit research organization People Powered Innovation Collaborative whose mission is “Elevating the ability and essential role of all organizations to create a world that works for all”. He lives in Portland, Maine, USA and can be reached at bernard@ppiCollaborative or +1-207-807-4974.